SUBJECT: Review of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code By-law No. 01-156
(PD01104(B)) (SPH01039) (CS01114) – (CITY WIDE)

RECOMMENDATION:

- (a) That the City of Hamilton Licensing Code By-law No. 01-156 be amended to reflect Council's direction that:
- i) Except in the case of a tobacco vendor licence, only one licence fee and one inspection fee shall be charged for multiple licences in the same establishment provided the licences are applied for at the same time;
 - ii) That all businesses legally operating within the new City of Hamilton prior to January 1, 2001 are deemed to be existing and therefore exempt from the $50 fee for new licences.
 - iii) That zoning verification fees not be applied to businesses that existed in the new City of Hamilton prior to January 1, 2001.
- (b) That Option (1) – full cost recovery – status quo be retained to reflect the user pay principle.

- (c) That in order to implement recommendations a(i), a(ii), and a(iii) reductions of revenue be reflected in both the 2001 budget exception report and the 2002 proposed budget.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

This review of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code has attempted to address the concerns of Council, the City's B.I.A.'s, and the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce. Staff have engaged in a public consultation process in order to receive input, comments and suggestions from the business community and concerned citizens. At the public meetings, staff presented the rationale for licensing categories, the costs associated with fees, and the purpose of separate Health and Fire inspection fees. The report substantiates the need for licensing throughout the new City and rationalizes enforcement of the requirements to ensure that the licensing function is carried out fairly and consistently across the new City.

The Licensing Code was developed by an Implementation Team made up of representatives from all municipalities who formerly had licensing by-laws. Staff developed criteria for licensing based on rural and urban business environments, nuisance businesses, and the need for public safety. These criteria were all used in deciding what businesses would be regulated and to determine the regulatory requirements. Factored into the decision for licensing were concerns from Health, Fire and Police.

This report has also examined the justification for basing the licence fees on a full-cost recovery model (Option 1). Although it is difficult to assess and assign all costs associated with licensing, the report has used consultant derived costs which were determined in 1996. The report also recommends amendments to the By-law to alleviate the impact of fees on the licence applicants and in particular, those who are subject to a licence for the first time. Recommendations (a)(i), (ii) and (iii) of this report include providing exemptions to those businesses in existence prior to January 1, 2001 from the zoning verification fee, from the $50 administration fee; and from requiring multiple licenses and inspections. The cost associated with these amendments is approximately $120,000.

The report also provides for 4 other options if Council does not want to proceed with Option 1, which is the full cost recovery option. The options are as follows:

- Option 2(a) General Levy covers 50% of the fees – This has a budget impact of $745,000 annually.
- Option 2(b) General Levy covers 25% of the fees – This has a budget impact of $373,000 annually.
- Option 3 – Phasing in Licensing fees over three years. This has a budget impact of 1.2 million dollars.
- Option 4 – Exclude Health and Fire inspection fees and have the general levy cover the cost. This has a budget impact of $222,300.
- Option 5 – Reduce the categories of the establishments that are licensed.

Also included are the results of a survey of licensing fees and practices of other municipalities of similar population size. The results indicate that most municipalities have not based their licensing and inspection fees on full cost recovery. However, each municipality, with the exception of one, have indicated that a review of their respective licensing by-laws and fees is expected to be undertaken in the next year to address full cost recovery.

CORPORATE IMPLICATIONS:

The proposed fee structures and licensing approvals, Schedule 31 of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code By-law No. 01-156, for new and renewed licences, have been established to reflect the incurred costs for the administration and the enforcement of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code.

It is estimated that the total number of licences, which will be issued throughout the new City, will be approximately 9,000 to 10,000, which will generate revenue in the range of $1,500,000, which is contained within the 2001 budget.

It is very difficult to determine the cost of implementing recommendation a(i) as it is a complex process to establish a cost for the many combinations of multiple licensing within each of the categories, that may occur throughout the licensing of these establishments throughout the new City.

The estimated cost to implement recommendation a(ii) is approximately $45,000 and to implement a(iii) is $75,000 for a total cost, excluding multiple licensing, of $120,000, which will have an impact on the $1,500,000 contained in the 2001 budget. (Appendix #10)

BACKGROUND:

On August 1, 2001, City Council approved the new harmonized licensing by-law and fee schedule. As a result of concerns raised by the Business community, City Council has requested an overview of the rationale for all licences issued and the fees charged for these licences.

The municipal licensing process permits a municipality to "prescribe, prohibit and regulate specific establishment and mobile businesses in a timely and accurate manner from a central location in order to ensure compliance with municipal regulations and protect the safety of the public".

The licensing function may be described as a centralized control system for the processing of a business licence application. To fulfill this responsibility the Licensing Division interfaces with various municipal divisions, namely Building, Fire, Traffic, Health and Police Services. Each division provides for the necessary enforcement of its respective by-laws and/or legislation such as the Fire Code, the Building Code, Health Protection Act, and the Highway Traffic Act, etc. It is this inspection and reporting process that ensures compliance with municipal and provincial regulations and standards to protect the health and safety of the public.

Aside from the public protection aspect, licensing provides a number of valuable functions:

- Licences provide a registry of businesses, which act as a resource for other divisions, agencies and ministries.

For example, a number of Provincial Ministries including the Ministry of the Environment and the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations are assisted with enforcement of provincial laws because of municipal licensing.

- A licence application triggers other divisions to react, initiating inspections to ensure compliance with municipal standards.
- The licensing process also includes a screening mechanism to ensure that only applicants of good character receive a licence, which further enhances the protection of the public.

- The Licensing Committee provides an avenue to suspend or revoke business licences or impose conditions on the licensee, where the business is being operated in contravention of the licensing by-law or other applicable law or where public safety is found to be at risk by the operation of the business.

When discussing the validity of licensing various businesses, a number of questions should be considered:

- Does licensing as an activity truly protect the health and safety of the public;
- Are there other agencies, divisions or federal and provincial ministries which could regulate the activity more effectively;
- Have licence regulations/by-laws fallen out of sync with the community needs and/or the business environment, and therefore no longer applicable; and
- In this time of economic challenges should the degree of risk to the public health and safety be the determining factor in deciding if an activity should be licensed or not?

The new harmonized City of Hamilton Licensing Code consists of a series of schedules, which relate to specific categories of businesses operating across the city, which require a business license. The Licensing, Inspection and By-law Implementation Team was comprised of members of each municipality within the former Region of Hamilton-Wentworth. The former Town of Ancaster, Town of Dundas, Town of Flamborough, City of Hamilton and City of Stoney Creek were directly involved with the administration, issuance and enforcement of business licensing in their respective municipalities. The Township of Glanbrook did not have a business licensing by-law. The Team's mandate was to review the existing business licensing by-laws of the aforementioned municipalities and to establish a comprehensive licensing by-law standardizing licensing categories and a fee schedule for the new City of Hamilton. The fees for the municipalities in the former Region of Hamilton-Wentworth are found in Appendix #8.

The Team reviewed the categories of businesses that each of the former municipalities licensed. Each category was reviewed with respect to its relevance and need for licensing and the needs of each respective municipality while taking into consideration both the urban and rural business environments, and past licensing enforcement areas of concern. In reviewing and establishing the regulations, the Team consulted with, and received input from the Health, Police and Fire Divisions in order to identify each Division's area(s) of concern, their inspection and enforcement requirements, and to ensure that the proposed Licensing Code incorporated licensing schedules that reflected these requirements.

After reviewing the various by-laws of the former municipalities, the Team recommended the repeal of a number of licence categories, which included movie theatres, boat rentals, golf courses, driving schools, laundromats and dry cleaners. These categories have been excluded from the Licensing Code as they pose little or no risk to the community and to date have not generated public concern or complaints. Other agencies or ministries already regulate some of these categories such as movie theatres.

At the request of the Social and Public Health Services, a new category of licence was added entitled 'Personal Services' in order to address the health concerns related to blood borne diseases and ensuring that these establishments comply with the applicable Provincially mandated health regulations. Businesses to be licensed under 'Personal Services' include hairdressing salons, barber shops, aesthetics, tattoo parlours and body piercing.

Due to concerns and complaints from constituents and business operators, a Seasonal Produce Vendor schedule was added to the Licensing Code. This schedule addresses concerns respecting their location (permission of the landowner is required), signage, parking, obstructing road allowances and garbage and debris generated.

Licensing Code Function:

Revocation of the Licensing Code could have a serious negative impact on the City and its citizens. The purpose of the new comprehensive, harmonized by-law is to provide for the:

- Health and safety of the public;
- Consumer protection;
- Control of nuisance type businesses that have a negative impact on our community from a social and environmental aspect;
- Protecting public interest; and
- Registration of businesses as a resource for other agencies, divisions or ministries

The Licensing Code provides the City with regulations that allow the Building and Licensing Division to deal with problem individuals and establishments such as the Viking Restaurant, the Sandbar, the Syndicate and Big Lisa's all of which had their licences revoked as a result of Licensing Committee show cause hearings. It is important to note that these show/cause hearings were initiated at the request of Social Services, Police Services, Council members, members of the public and Ministries such as the Alcohol and Gaming Commission. Therefore, the Licensing Code provides a mechanism with which to control those businesses operating in a manner that imposes a negative impact on the community.

The Licensing Code allows the City to regulate and control individuals, and mobile and establishment businesses operating in the prescribed categories throughout the new City. The current regulations enacted in the Licensing Code allow the City:

- to control its ability to deal with problem or nuisance establishments;
- to control the number and locations of adult entertainment parlours (4) and body rub parlours (3);
- to control the display and location of adult videos and publications;

- to regulate and control the location and number of Transient Traders and Hawkers and Pedlars carrying on business throughout the new City;
- to regulate, monitor and control those businesses involved with the sale or provision of food, personal care, lodging, entertainment events and recreational establishments that directly affect the health and well being of the members of the community.
- to regulate the hours, behaviour of patrons, conditions of the property and the manner in which businesses operate;
- to provide protection to the public from unscrupulous business operators and trades people with respect to business practises, quality of workmanship, and excessive billing;
- to assist other agencies, divisions and ministries in the enforcement of their respective by-laws and/or legislation. For example, the licensing of second hand goods establishments and pawnbrokers provides regulations which restrict the re-sale of possible stolen goods, tracking of second hand goods and recovery of stolen property; and
- to ensure that business operators are of good character by requiring police (criminal) clearances for those individuals operating within licensing categories that would put the public at risk, i.e., taxi drivers, tow truck drivers, adult entertainment attendants and operations, and residential care facility operators.

Licensing Fees – Full Cost Recovery:

The City of Hamilton current licensing fees, excluding the Health and Fire inspection fees, reflect full cost recovery for the licensing function of the Standards and Licensing Division overhead costs, which include staff salaries and benefits, and vehicle costs for Inspectors, enforcement programs, and staff training, etc. These fees were established using a detailed activity based costing exercise.

Currently, the Municipal By-law Enforcement Officers are part of a multi agency task force. In addition to investigating complaints received, the Officers pro-actively inspect residential care facilities, taxis, taxi drivers, illegal operations, problematic operators and/or establishments, unrenewed licensees, lay charges against businesses operating without a licence and/or in contravention of the Licensing Code and Zoning By-law.

Multiple Licensing:

Staff recognize the impact that the new licence and inspection fees have had on the former area municipality business establishments and individuals, which may not have been licensed in the past or were only required to pay minimal licence fees; as well as the impact on other small local businesses. The new Licensing Code, which came into force on August 1, 2001, has taken into account some of these financial difficulties.

Many businesses are required to obtain multiple licences depending on the type of services they offer. The new harmonized By-law has, to a degree, recognized this financial hardship. By way of example, there are various classes of public garage licences (auto sales, auto body repairs, motor repairs and car washes). In the past, operators were charged a separate licence fee for each licence category depending on the nature of their business. The new Licensing Code requires that a public garage owner only pay one fee of $185 no matter what services the garage is offering. A public garage is now able to offer engine repairs, body repairs and auto sales for a single licence fee of $185. The same operator would have been charged $555 in the past. Similarly, food shops offering many different services such as a butcher, bake shop or fresh fish would require separate licences for each of these services prior to the new licensing by-law. Under the harmonized licensing by-law, a food shop operator is only required to pay one licence fee and is not charged for any additional services that he may provide. A food shop licence now lists the services provided by the operator on the licence in order to provide a mechanism to initiate inspections by other divisions, but the licensee would only pay one fee of $185. Notwithstanding the changes already contained in the by-law to reduce multiple licensing, it is further recommended that a multiple licence applied for at the same time for a specific property shall only be charged one licence fee and one fire and public health inspection fee. This is provided that the applicant applies for all licences for a specific location at the same time so one review and inspection can be undertaken.

The following examples provide multiple licensing opportunities as the category and its respective sub-categories are relative in terms of use of the property. Only one fee would be charged for a restaurant even if it also provided a take-out or drive-in. Similarly, a food shop that also has a butcher, fish monger and bake shop would only be charge on licence fee.

Pursuant to the Council decision of August 22, 2001, all businesses operating within the new City of Hamilton prior to January 1, 2001 are deemed to be existing. Therefore, these businesses are exempt from the $50 administration fee for new licence applications and pay only the renewal fee of $135 as outlined in the Licensing Code Renewal Fee Schedule (Appendix #3). Also, in order to alleviate the financial burden imposed on these Area businesses, the fee for the required zoning verification is being internalized by the Division rather than burdening the licensee to pay the applicable fee established by the each of the former municipalities. The zoning verification fees are not being charged for businesses existing in the new City prior to January 1, 2001.

In 1998, Hamilton City Council passed a by-law that applicants for new licences be required to submit a plot plan satisfactory to the Building Division and obtain a Zoning Verification certificate from the Building Division before a new and transfer licence application is processed. Any applicant for a licence renewal was exempt from this process. The Zoning Verification process is based on those fees currently existing in the former municipalities, and are charged only to applicants licensing new businesses that did not exist prior to January 1, 2001:

City of Hamilton	$ 80 or $120 for express (within forty-eight hours)
City of Stoney Creek:	$ 80
Town of Flamborough:	$ 75
Township of Glanbrook:	$ 50
Town of Dundas:	$ 50
Town of Ancaster:	$100

Zoning Verifications are conducted on a full cost recovery. The purpose of this amendment was to deter licence applicants from investing substantial sums of money to improve a property before the use proposed had been verified as a permitted use on the subject property. The Zoning Verification also provides information respecting the applicant's ability to comply with the Zoning By-law with respect to parking requirements, visual barriers and the permitted uses on the property. It also identifies if there are any outstanding work orders existing respecting the Property Standards By-law or Building Code Act.

Many licensed facilities such as food shops, public halls and public garages offer tobacco or cigarette sales. The Public Health Division advises that the Provincial Tobacco Control Act requires that various types of inspections and enforcement must occur on any premise that sell tobacco and that compliance with the legislation cannot be completed in one inspection. Although it may be possible to combine some of the inspection requirements under multiple licences such as food premises, tobacco vendor compliance inspections through the use of test shoppers must be completed separately from food related inspections. Therefore, the Health Division maintains that there is a need to have a separate licence and fee for cigarette and tobacco sales. The Health Division indicated that all tobacco sales vendors were inspected in 2001.

Prior to the harmonized Licensing Code the former City of Hamilton Licensing Code was amended respecting the licensing of billiard or pool tables. Previously there was a separate licence for billiard/pool tables with an accompanying licence fee of $185. The amendment provided for an exemption to licensed restaurants or public halls which had no more than two billiard/pool tables; the use of these tables was deemed to be incidental to the principle business use of the restaurant or public hall, and no billiard/pool table licence was required. This amendment is incorporated in the new Licensing Code and will affect many of the businesses from the former municipalities amalgamated into the new City of Hamilton, which required each billiard/pool table to be licensed.

Under the new Licensing Code, applicants who apply for a new or transfer 'multiple licence', for licence categories that require Fire inspections will only be charged one fire inspection fee. The Fire Prevention Officer will only attend the establishment for one inspection and will inspect the entire premises at that time respecting all license categories of the multiple licence.

Similarly, the Health Division will follow the same procedures and charge only one inspection fee for multiple licences. There may be other opportunities to offer businesses a single licence fee where in the past multiple licences were required.

OPTIONS

Due to the concerns expressed as a result of the enactment of the new City of Hamilton Licensing Code, staff have reviewed the following options respecting the current licensing categories and their respective fees, as follows.

Option #1: Full Cost Recovery Status Quo with amendments to multiple licences and inspections and new fee exemption for businesses existing prior to January 1, 2001, as well as zoning verification exemptions for businesses existing prior to January 1, 2001, as outlined in recommendation (a)(i), (ii) and (iii) of this report.

Attached is the current fee schedule (Appendix #1) for new licensing applicants, which includes a $50 administration fee, and the current fee schedule (Appendix #3) for the renewal of existing licences throughout the new City.

The criteria for the current licensing structure reflects full cost recovery for administration and enforcement to ensure compliance with the business licensing by-law. Administrative input refers to the amount of time staff must incur to issue and renew all business licenses in the City accompanied by the task of maintaining all licensing records and maintaining a current status of information of each licensee in order to facilitate all licensing functions. This record maintenance function also facilitates the enforcement of each business licensing category to ensure compliance is maintained on a day to day basis, not just at the time of application or renewal. It also provides a database of information to Divisions throughout the City to achieve a concerted approach to enforcement on behalf of the City and all agencies and/or ministries with concerns related to the respective licensing categories in the Licensing Code. The fees also reflect cost recovery for the administration and enforcement of licences issued throughout the City, the applicable Health inspection fee for each category of licensing and the Fire inspection fee where required.

The current provisions and regulations of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code ensure that all Health, Fire and safety standards are met and maintained within the business environment to protect public health and well being, public safety and security, and the consumption of goods in the City of Hamilton now and in the future.

Budget Impact of Option #1:

This option has no impact on the general levy. There is full cost recovery of administration through activity based costing. This includes salaries, benefits, overhead, car expenses, mileage, staff training, legal services, Human Resources support, Information Technology costs, etc.

Option #2: The General Levy Covers a Portion of the Costs

2(a) This option provides that the general levy pays for 50% of the fees.

Budget Impact of Option 2(a):

This would reduce application and inspection fees revenue by half and would increase the general levy by $745,000 annually.

2(b) This option provides that the general levy pays for 25% of the fees.

Budget Impact of Option 2(b):

This would reduce application and inspection fees revenue by 25% and would impact the levy by $373,000 annually.

Option #3: Phasing in Licensing Fees

This option provides that the current licence fees for new and renewed licenses be phased in over a period of three years, 2002, 2003 and 2004. Therefore, in 2002 50% of the original fees would be payable, 75% of the fees would be payable and 100% of the current fees would be achieved.

Appendix #7 indicates the fees for the proposed Phase In and Total Revenues to be realized throughout the phase in period:

2002 - 50% Total Revenue	$ 745,000
2003 – 75% Total Revenue	$1,120,000
2004 – 100% Total Revenue	$1,500,000
Total Revenue 2002, 2003 and 2004	$3,365,000

Budget Impact of Option #3:

As a result, throughout the subject three year period the projected Total Revenue would be $4.5 million if 100% of the license fees were collected. However, in the case of a three year phase in, the Total Revenue would be approximately $3.4 million resulting in a loss of revenue of $1.2 million. The loss in revenue would need to be covered by the general levy given that the costs of the program would exceed the revenue generated.

Option #4: Current Licence Fees – Exclude Health and Fire Inspection Fees

This option proposes that applicants and licensees pay only the applicable licence fee for a new or renewed licence and that no fees be charged for health and fire inspections. Alternatively, the cost recovery for the health and fire inspections would be realized from the general levy, or, that the Health and Fire fees be collected by the respective divisions following the inspection being performed at each premise to be licensed.

Licensees requiring a Health and/or Fire inspection are currently charged an inspection fee, which was established by each of the aforementioned Divisions. Due to provincial downloading, the former Region of Hamilton-Wentworth approved in 1999 the collection of Health inspection fees, which were to be collected in 2000. The inspection fee is based on the level of risk of the business, and as a result, it is based on the frequency of the number of inspections required to ensure compliance with each Division's legislation and regulations.

The charging for Fire's inspections is to recognize and compensate for the costs in providing a service to the Licensing process. For years in the former City of Hamilton, Fire has been circulated on specific higher risk licences and has been inspecting in the interest of ensuring public safety and to address the City's liability obligations attached to licensing establishments. The need to address these costs was also recognized in the external consultant's report on user fees (DMG – 1994).

In order to simplify and streamline matters for the business operator, the invoicing for the health and fire inspections is included in the collection of the applicable licence category fee for a new or renewed licence. Appendices #2 and #4 indicate the approvals required for a new licence and renewed licence respectively as required to comply with health, fire, traffic, parking and building regulations and/or legislation.

Since the enactment of the Licensing Code By-law, concerns have been expressed respecting the current fee scheduled. If Council wishes to eliminate the health and fire inspection fees, the following impact would need to be absorbed by the general levy due to the non-collection of the aforementioned fees.

Budget Impact of Option #4:

Tobacco Establishment:

There are approximately 700 tobacco vendors requiring licensing in the City of Hamilton, for which the cost of $150 per year, per establishment, for the health inspection will provide a net levy reduction of $52,500 by the collection of approximately $105,000. This provincially mandated program of inspection is funded 50% by the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care; therefore, only 50% of the inspection fee will result in the net levy reduction.

Personal Services:

The $90 health inspection fee is proposed to partially recover the cost of providing inspections required under the new Mandatory Inspection requirements put forward by the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care. There are approximately 800 personal services premises in the City of Hamilton. Similarly, the net levy reduction through the collection of this fee, $72,000 will be approximately $36,000 based on 50% funding provided by the Ministry.

Food Safety Fee:

The fees are established to partially recover the cost of providing Provincially mandated inspection programs in the City of Hamilton. Based on the estimated 4,900 food premises in the City the fees will result in a net levy reduction of approximately $133,800 to the Corporation. High risk premises such as restaurants must be inspected a minimum of three times per year. As a result the fee of $90 is three times as much as the fee for a low risk food premise such as a convenience store that must be inspected once per year. Medium risk food premises have a fee of $60 per year, as a minimum of two inspections per year is required. The Health Division indicated that 45% of the food premises were inspected in 2001.

Residential Care Facilities:

The issue of Health inspection fees for Residential Care Facilities will be addressed in a separate report to Council included on the Hearings Sub-Committee Agenda of December 4, 2001.

Attached are the schedules indicating the license fees for new (Appendix #5) and renewed licences (Attachment #6) and exclude all health and fire inspection fees for this option.

Total Budget impact of Option #4:

Excluding non-collection of Residential Care Facility inspection fees, the budget impact of Option #4 is $222,300.

Option #5: Reduce Categories of Licensing

A review of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code By-law No. 01-156 has been completed. One of the purposes for this review was to identify possible schedules and licensing categories to be removed from the by-law. Council has already approved the deregulation of a number of licence categories, which included movie theatres, boat rentals, golf courses, driving schools, laundromats and dry cleaners. These categories have been excluded from the Licensing Code as they pose little or no risk to the community and to date have not generated public concern or complaints. Other agencies or ministries already regulate some of these categories such as movie theatres.

The issuance or a renewal of a license ensures that all appropriate divisions are notified that a new business intends to begin operations or is continuing to operate. This enables the city to ensure that the best interest of the public is served through compliance to all applicable by-laws and legislation. Licenses are subject to imposed conditions, suspensions and revocation by the Licensing Committee, all of which are control mechanisms to ensure public safety. The Licensing Committee is the instrument that assures that individuals and establishments will be dealt with if they refuse to comply not only with the licensing requirements but also with those of other divisions and/or agencies such as the Police and Health. There are sometimes specific reasons why a municipality may choose to license or not to license a particular business, trade or occupation. This section will provide background as to why the categories identified by the committee for deregulation were originally included into the Licensing By-law.

Personal Service Facilities were included in the By-law at the request of Social and Public Health Services as a means to identify the location of these kinds of establishments throughout the new City, and to trigger a health inspection. The Health Division has identified personal services as, an occupation, trade or business in which communicable or blood borne diseases can be spread. Therefore, it is in the best interest of the public to have a mechanism in place, which regulates Personal Service Facilities and ensures that they are in compliance with the Health Division regulations mandated by the Province. Given that inspections are mandated, a licence ensures that zoning regulations, etc. are complied with. The City can be placed in a difficult position if an inspection is approved by Health because it meets all health issues and then later it is determined that the use does not comply with the zoning by-law. This would make for a very difficult prosecution under zoning. The issuance of a licence should go hand in hand with inspections.

A second hand goods licence is a requirement in most licence by-laws throughout the province. Police Services in general, including the City of Hamilton Police, regard the licensing of Second Hand Goods establishments and pawnbroker establishments as a vital method for law enforcement agencies to track or recover stolen goods; pursue criminal investigations; prohibit individuals with criminal records from operating; identify who is the licensed operator for the purpose of charges; and other regulations which assist investigations in criminal activities. It was at the request of the Police that these categories be included in the licensing by-laws of the former municipalities and in the harmonized licensing code. The Hamilton Police are adamant that licensing these categories is an essential tool to the recovery and investigation of stolen goods.

The licensing of kennels and pet shops is a request of the Hamilton SPCA for the purpose of placing responsibility on these establishments to sell dog tags and generate revenue, which in turn becomes a control mechanism for promoting responsible dog ownership within the City Of Hamilton.

The criteria for licensing mobile and establishment businesses include developing a registry of businesses throughout the new City relative to the licensing categories. If the municipality undertakes only to maintain a registry without requiring these individuals or establishments to comply with the licensing, zoning, health, fire, parking, traffic and police requirements; the City is assuming a level of liability. The liability is incurred because the City has knowledge of the existence of these businesses but has no mechanism in place to ensure compliance or enforcement to protect the health and safety of the public.

Staff are currently reviewing the necessity of licensing tow truck owners and tow truck drivers, and this review will be the subject of a future report.

Survey / Best Practices

Staff undertook a survey of licensing fees and practises for municipalities of a similar population size to the City of Hamilton. The municipalities surveyed share similar licensing and enforcement concerns. The City of Mississauga expects that their fees will increase as their by-law is undergoing an Activity Based Costing review similar to that of the City's review in 1996. Attached is a synopsis of the licensing fees charged by the municipalities of Oshawa, Toronto, Burlington, Richmond Hill, Windsor, Mississauga and Vaughn (Appendix #9).

The survey also indicates that the licensing fees in Mississauga, Oshawa and Burlington do not reflect full cost recovery for their municipalities; these municipalities have indicated that they will be undertaking a review of their own licensing by-laws and fees in order to address activity based costing requirements.

Public Consultation:

Staff organized two public consultation meetings, November 12, 2001 and November 19, 2001. The business community was represented by the B.I.A. presidents of Westdale, Dundas, International Village, Barton Street, and Downtown Hamilton, and the Chamber of Commerce.

The business communities expressed concern respecting the current property tax situation experienced by businesses in the City of Hamilton and that the licensing fees are the 'icing on the cake'. They stated that they are paying three times the rate of taxes in comparison to neighbouring communities such as Burlington, Caledonia and Grimsby, without three times the rate of service. They were in support of the licensing code and licensing fees in general, but they felt that the licensing fees should reflect the licensing service(s) they are receiving and that the fees should be more in line with those charged in the City of Burlington. It was noted that the fees in the Licensing Code include the health and fire inspection fees, and not only the fees for licensing. The B.I.A. representatives reiterated that they would like parity with neighbouring communities respecting taxes and fees; and added that the health and fire inspections were done for the public good and therefore the public, via the general levy, should pay for the public good.

The issue of multiple licensing fees was a concern; however, staff assured the group that this is being addressed in this report to Committee of the Whole.

The representative from the Dundas B.I.A. questioned the necessity of licensing public garages, which the Town of Dundas had not previously required to be licensed. The Public Garage schedule addresses the selling, buying and storage, motor and body repair, car washes, gas stations and parking lots. The Licensing Code has requirements for the physical layout of the lot; the storage of inoperative vehicles; the environmental and health issues involved in autobody repairs, particulate emissions from autobody painting; the use of the property; parking of vehicles on streets and boulevards; drainage, lighting and signage on the site; and ensures that the area is kept in an orderly condition without any scrap or debris laying about. In addition to these controls, a police clearance is required to ensure operators are of good character, in order to protect consumers. The Licensing Committee provides another avenue to revoke, suspend, or impose conditions on a license to eliminate or control problem operators.

ANALYSIS:

Although there are a number of options that can be considered on how best to pay for the cost associated with business licensing and inspections, the Division is recommending that the principle of user pay on a full cost recovery basis is the preferred alternative. As such, Option #1 is being recommended by staff for Council's consideration.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT:

The provisions and regulations of the City of Hamilton Licensing Code, will ensure that standards are met and maintained within the business environment to protect public health and well being, public safety and security, and the consumption of goods in the City of Hamilton now and in the future.
